DEAD WITH HIS THROAT CUT.

THIS LOOKS LIKE THE "SLASHER'S" WORK.

JOHN CARSON, A DISSIPATED LAWYER, SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN MURBERED.

A mysterious criminal, as elusive as London's Jack the Ripper," has slashed several drunken men lately in the streets not far distant from Chatham Square, choosing the dark hours in the early morning He has been as successful as the Whitechapel butcher in keeping out of the way of the police. The absence of any other motive for his crimes suggests the theory that he is a dangrous erank, with a manta for cutting helpless drinken men. In no case has the "slasher" attempted to rob his victims. Meeting them in the darkness, he given to each in passing a swift stroke on the neck or cheek with a razor or sharp knife.

rly yesterday morning a drunken man was turned out of a lodging-house in the Bowery, and soon after ward a policeman stumbled over the man's dead body on Chrystle-st. The man's throat had been cut from ear to ear, evidently with one powerful stroke of a keen-edged knife. No weap-No weapon was near the body. of blood on the sidewalk, but only a few drops of blood had fallen on the man's breast and his hands were The position and appearance of the corpse and the nature of the wound indicated clearly that the man had been murdered as he lay helplessly drunk on the sidewalk. By means of papers in the man's pockets the police soon ascertained that he was John Carson, about thirty years old, fermerly a lawyer of Baltimore, Md., lately a book canvasser in this city. Drunkenness had rulned his prospects and had made him a physical wreck. He had slept a few nights in the Germania Hotel, at No. 81 Bowery, where he had concealed his identity by registering himself as John Want had compelled him to pawn his overcoat for $1 and when he was driven out from the hotel" into the storm early yesterday morning his condition was so pitiable that he might well have preferred to die. The police built upon those facts a theory of suicide, refusing to admit that Corson was

n victim of the mysterious "Slasher."

It was a few minutes after 4 a. m. when Policeman Hall, of the Eldridge st. squad, found Carson's body lying on the sidewalk, close to the door of the small stable at No. 41 Chrystie-st. The man's head was toward the door and the feet were toward the gutter. The body was partly on its back, the hands outstretched. From a gaping wound in the throat blood had poured out on the sidewalk, but there was not much blood on the frayed black coat which the man had worn and none on the waistcoat and fronsers The bosom of his white shirt was clean, and so were his hands. No weapon was in sight.

A search in the dead man's pockets disclosed letters nd other papers which showed that his name was John Carson. One letter was from his brother-inlaw, Frank de S. Benzinger, of No. 2,511 St. Paul-st., Raltimore, Md., scolding Carson for falling to write to his sister. Benzinger wrote that his daughter, three old, had been burned to death by accident on November 14, and added: "A postal card a month is not too much, and they expect that. Annie has been here for a week. Her address is Mrs. John Sanderson. No. 465 Ellison-st., Paterson, N. J." The police were informed later that the brothers-in-law were judges and that Carson had belonged to a good family and had een a promising young lawyer in Baltimore. Among the letters were several which indicated that be had been in small towns in Massachusetts and Connecticut recently, selling books. There also were blanks showing that he had done some canvassing for Scribner's and for the Collier Publishing Company in this city. At the office of Scribner's It was said that had brought a few orders to the firm and had received the usual commissions, but he had not been employed regularly as an agent. Early in the day the police learned that Carson had slept three nights in the Germania Hotel at No. 81 Bowery, where he called himself John Chester when he paid $1.50 for lodging for a week. Until hour on Thursday night he had been drinking midnight he was so drank that he was not able to walk alone, and a man named Westbrook was induced by the bartender to help blue to the lodging house. Carson got part way up stairs and then sank into a drunken stupor. A night watchman in the lodging house found asleep in an uncomfortable position on the stairs about 1 a. m., and called Wicland, the night They managed to shake Carson awake and then Wicland handed 75 cents to him and said: "I want you to get out. You paid $1 50 for your lodgings for week and you have been drunk here three nights. We won't be troubled with you any longer."

Abraham Kostin, living in the tenement-house No. 39 Chrystie st., noticed a drunken man lying on the sidewalk in front of the stable next door soon after 2 a. m. He heard the man snoring heavily. Half an hour later Henry Vogt, ta milkman, noticed the drunken man on the sidewalk and heard him breathing heavily. It is possible that Carson's throat had been ent at that time, as his body was cold when it was

First Precinct to Eldridge st. only a few days ago, professed to believe vesterday that Carson had committed suicide. He also scoffed at the theory that Carson could have been killed by the "slasher." While admitting that Carson's throat must have been cut when he was lying on the sidewalk. Captuit McLaughlin said it was gossible for a man to cut himself in that position. Notwithstanding such talk Captain McLaughlin was lumting anxiously for some body in out of the way places in his precinct later, and with him was Captain O'Connor, of the Fourth Pre-cinct. They went to Headquarters also and con-sulted with Inspectors byrnes and Williams, who afterward said that Carson must have com at the morgae in the atternoon. He found that the wound, which extended from ear to ear, was superficial. Neither the jugular vein nor the windpape was severed. The man had hed to death. Dr Domin lavored the theory of shicide.

Three victims of the "slasher" were sent to the hospital by pellecinen of Captain o'Connor's squad. George Wilson, of No. 255 steubens th, Brooklyn, was cut on the check, in oliver-st., at 4 n. m., January 3. Louis Lawson, a shifor, of No. 5 Albany-st., was cut on the check, in oliver-st., at 4 n. m., January 3. Louis Lawson, a shifor, of No. 5 Albany-st., was cut on the check, at Peck slip and south-st., early on the morning of January s. John Clark, a youth, of No. 164 Bond-st., Etabeth, N. J., received a cut extending from his left check half way around his neck early on the morning of January 10, near Chatham square. One man, James Haffin, of No. 315 East Eighteenth-st., was cut in the Sixth Precinet. The muscles on one side of his neck were severed by one stroke of the "slashers" halfe in Bayard-st. Just before Captain McLaughin was transferred from the First Precinet the "slashers" cut a man there. The man was solver enough when he was injured to tell the appearance of the assalhant.

Estimore, Jan 15.—John Carson, whose dead body was found in front of a stable in Chrystie-st., New-York, this morning, was the son of John Carson, of this city, who was in his day one of the best-known members of the bar of Maryland, and one of its most successful practitioners. John Carson, s., ded in 1883. He left his son a competency. The son also succeeded to the father's extensive practice. His partner in the law business was William J. O'Brien, a highly respected clitzen of Bultimore. Carson engaged in building speculation and also became interested in the Roberts Electric Motor Company. The ventures were failures. Carson took to drink and went to Beston, where he secured employment on "Once a Weck." From Boston he drifted to New York. Carson had married the daughter of John H. Barelay, a well-k

INDIGNANT PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST. The Riverside Park Property-Gwners' Association met yesterday afternoon in the office of J. Romaine Brown, No. 50 West Thirty-third-st. S. G. Eavne, president of the Seaboard Bank, presided. The object of the meeting was to protest against the bill introduced at Albany by Sena-tor Plunkitt, allowing part of Riverside Park to-be used as a freight yard by the New-Yerk Centrol Railroad Com pany. The feeling of the meeting was one of indignation. Resolutions were passed to oppose the bill at Albany and in the City Council.

in the City Council.

Other resolutions were passed in favor of the city acquising all of the water front from seventy-second-st, to One-hundred-and-thirtieth sts. These resolutions also asked the Board of Estimate to appropriate about $150,000 which remains of the $200,000 granted by the Legislature in 1887 to the improvement of the park. Several propositions have been submitted for the building of walks an retaining wails, but so far only a small portion of the $200,000 has been appropriated. Up to this time only $50,000 has been expended to improve the park proper.

CANAL BOAT OWNERS DEMAND REFORM.

About 150 canalboat owners, members of the Canal and Harbor Protective Association, met last evening, in response to a call issued on Tuesday, at No. 101 Broad-st. Washington's old headquarters. The members of the association were imbued with the idea that some active measures must be taken at once to secure the passage of a State Elevator bill. It was declared that the present charges for loading and unloading canalboats were ex-orbitant. Berides providing for State elevators, it was decided that the canals should be speedily improved, as recommended by ex-State Engineer Seymour. A legis lative committee, with Captain M. De Puy as chaliman was appointed with full powers to go to Albany and work in the interests of the canalboat men. It was also decided to hold a convention of canalboat men in Albany

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

IS THE MURDERER KNOWN? NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE BOSCHINSKY MYSTERY EXPECTED.

There is a possibility that the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Frieda Boschinsky and her fouryear-old son in their apartments at No. 35 Moore st. on the afternoon of December 15 may soon be un-The police of Brooklyn, it is said, have obtained a most important clew that will soon lead to the arrest of the murderer. Detectives Miller and Marks, who have been at work on the case since the discovery of the crime, have had the husband of the murdered woman under strict surveillance. It is also known that officers are closely watching the movements of a man who had been seen in the house in which the Boschinskys lived on the day of the crime. The latter, it is said, had been a frequent visitor to the apartments of the murdered woman during her husband's absence. The visitor, it is said, met Mrs Boschinsky on the vessel which brought her to the ountry. He went to live in Brooklyn, and found a boarding-house near the Boschinsky home.

It is known that the police have discovered that on the arrival of Mrs. Boschinsky in this country on July 16 last Boschinsky was not on hand to receiv she was debarred from landing on this accoun by General O'Beirne, as she was unable to tell wher her husband was living. When questioned, the woman Mass. An officer was then sent out in search of Boschinsky, and went to the house of a man named Helfand, at No. 32 Moore st., where Mrs. Boschinsky had sent all her communications to her band. Helfand pointed out Boschinsky, and he was taken to the Barge Office, where he claimed has wife and child, and took them to Brooklyn. He had preceded them to this country by four years, it is said that the couple did not live happily to gether in their native land, and when her husband learned that she was in this country he expressed much surprise. It is known that Boschinsky was at work all through the day of the crime, and nothing was known of the murder until he returned to his home that night and found his wife dead on the floor of the kitchen.

Max Boschinsky has of late made several trips to efficials at the island said yesterday no suspicion at inched to Boschinsky. It was rumored that the visits to Ellis Island had to do with establishing the identity of a man in the steerage with whom Mrs. Roschinsky seemed to be on friendly terms on her voyage over here last July. JUSTICE TIGHE CALLS A WOMAN A LIAR.

Justice Tighe, of the second District Police Court, so far forgot his dignity when on the bench in his court yesterday as to call a woman who appear before him a liar. It is a well-known fact that Alder man James McGarry and his brother Joseph, who i clerk of the court, have great power in south Brook lyn, where Justice Tighe's court is situated. Mr Tighe himself is related by marriage to the Mc Garrys.

Mrs. Mary Fedden, of No. 142 Wyckoff st., says that her son Frederick was assaulted on saturday by John McGarry, son of Joseph McGarry, and the latter nephew, James Moore, who is a bartender in his uncle' liquor shop. She was told not to go to Justice Tighe' court for warrants for the two young men, and sh sought warrants in two other police courts, but wa told to go and see Justice Tighe. She then wrote let ters to the newspapers about the matter, and Justice Tighe sent for her yesterday, saying that he would give her a letter to the Adams Street Court. The Justice then said that her son was not hart, save by a fall that made his nose bleed, and that he saw him

THE GREAT REVIVAL IN ELIZABETH. LIQUOR-SHOPS AND OTHER BUSINESS PLACES CLOSE IN THE MIDDLE OF THE WEEK.

During the last two weeks a remarkable religious awakening has been in progress at Elizabeth, which culminated last night in the farewell services at the First Presbyterian Church, where the revival meetings have been held. The special religious services have been conducted by the Rev. B. Fay Mills, assisted by Mr. Greenwood, who led the singing, while Mr. Mills delivered the religious exhortations. The latter is a plain-spoken man imbued with deep earnestness. There has been no attempt at oratorical fireworks, but the speaker appealed directly to the better sentimen hearers, and to this his success is largely to be

All Protestant denominations have been united in carrying on the work and Catholics have contributed by closing their business places on the day set apart for special religious services. It is estimated that 2,000 people have professed conversion since the revival began. Mayor Rankin had not been friendly with the Rev. Dr. Kempshall, paster of the First Pres byterian Church, since the Senate election in 1890 and had left his old pastor's clairch. The Mayor arose during the service on Wednesday night, confessed his fault and asked forgiveness of Dr. Kempshall. Ex-Alderman Reeve had not for years spoken to the Rev. Mr. McAllister, of Trinity Episcopal Church, but they met in a spirit of Christian forgiveness at the meetings, where the ex-Alderman publicly acknowledged his fault and afterward shook hands with the clergyman with whom he had been on terms of enmity.

On last Tuesday nearly all the business houses in Elizabeth closed between the hours of 9:30 and 12 o'clock a. m.; also from 3 to 5 p. m., and again in the evening at 7 o'clock. EAST ORANGE. ST, PAUL'S CHURCH IN TROUBLE NOW.

Trouble over High and Low Church has broken out another of the churches of the Oranges, and there are indications that it may lend to serious results

St. Paul's Church, East Orange, is in Dodd-st., near the dividing line between East Orange and Bloomfield, to both. For many years the parish was one of the Low Church ones, and the Bloomfield contingent repesented this element in the parish. Those member of the parish living in East Orange became more High Church in their views, and some years ago the Rev James P. Fancon was called as the rector.

nder his charge little changes were introduced into the ritual of the parish one after another. The latest one was the introduction of the vested choir, and this gave great offence to some in the church. There wa a stormy meeting of the vestry of the church held on Wednesday evening, at which M. A. Daly, Stephen Wednesday evening, at which M. A. Dairy, Stephen (dilson and F. R. Pilch spoke warmly in opposition to the conduct of the musical part of the service. Frank Wirelman, the chairman of the music committee, defended the action of the committee, and said the rector was the one to decide what was right in the church. The meeting was a leasted one, and was ended by an enforced adjournment, without any positive action having been taken.

CATCHING AN ELOPING COUPLE.

Recorder McDonough had before him yesterday Mrs. Meline Jelenko, of No. 66 East Ninety-third-st. New York, and Charles Fenkel. Gustav Jelenko, ar uncle of the woman, told the Recorder that she had deserted her husband and had fled with Fenkel to Naegell's Hotel in Hudson st. Mrs. Jelenko denied that she and Fenkel went away together, but admitted that she followed the man. While these proceedings were taking place in the court room the injured were taking place in the court room the injured husband entered. His wife screamed and then went into the Recorder's private room. She and her husband had an interview which was brief, but during which she pleaded hard to be taken back by him. He refused and with his wife's uncle left the court room. The woman and Fenkel were held in bonds for the Grand Jury. Mrs. Jelenko is but twenty-one years old.

Carrie Kell, the ten-year-old daughter of Charles Keil, living at South Orange ave, and Hunterdon st., was sent out for a pitcher of milk at 6 o'clock last night. The Gaild was met and attacked by a Spitz dog, three large pieces of flesh being bitten from her leg. Dr. Diefenhach, who cauterized the wounds, pronounced them serious. A policeman shot the dog. The dog had not shown victousness before.

Herold was indicted for an atrocious assault on Henry Shafer several weeks ago. Ten days after the assault Shafer died, and it was alleged that his death was indirectly due to the beating he received from Herold.

PLAINFIELD.—John Witleman, eighteen years old, died yesterslay in Plainfield from consumption, which is said to have been caused by excessive eightest smooking. Witleman was a young man of excellent prospects and popular. Some time ago, when employed by the Telephone Company, he met an accident which resulted in the loss of a hard. After his recovery, his idle days hung so heavily on him that he smoked incessantly to pass away the time. Germs IRVINGTON.—The Irvington station on the line of the Hudson River Railroad was entered by burglars on Thursday night, and robbed. The robbers stole all the loose change from the cash-drawer, and appropriated a large number of tickets. The sale, containing a large amount of the company's money, was unmolested, and it is therefore surmised that tramps eight the work.

LONG ISLAND.

CAPTAIN WOODRICK GETS A DIVORCE. The jury in the Woodrick divorce case brought in ealed verdict yesterday in the Long Island City Court, Judge Dyckman presiding. They found that Captain Woodrick is entitled to absolute divorce from his wife Mrs. Woodrick charged her husband with cruelty and Mrs. Woodrick charged her husband with crueity and inhuman treatment and asked for a legal separation and allmony. Captain Woodrick made charges against his wife of misconduct with Alexander Phillips. The latter is a young lad who was employed by the Woodricks at their Jamaica home to attend to the horses and stables. The captain said that while he was away on a sea voyage young Philips allengted his wife's affections and took his place in the house. On the first trial the jury disagreed.

OUTDOOR SPORTS.

FOR ANOTHER LONG BICYCLE RACE.

It has now been definitely decided to hold another bicycle race in Madison Square Garden, beginning March, to last six days. It will not, however, be a six-days' night-end-day race, like the last. It is proposed to make this one even a greater success than the previous tournament, and as it is rather distressing to the sensitive spectage to graze on a worn-out and sore rider clinging to ment, and as it is rather distressing to the sensitive epectator to gaze on a worn-out and sore rider clinging to his wheel at the end of a week, the management have wisely determined to make the coming race last only a limited number of hours each day, which will make it more interesting for the public, inasmuch as the scores of contestants will always be so close as to sustain the interest, and the result will be in doubt to the last hour, the sides retaining a neat and frees appearance. The the riders retaining a neat and fresh appearance. leading riders of this country and Europe have signified their intention of competing. Cash prizes will be offered to the winners, so that every man will know before he starts what he is working for. There will be in con-junction with the race an exhibition of bicycles by the leading manufacturers of this country. T. W. Eck has been retained to manage the race.

REPORT OF THE BROOKLYN BASEBALL CLUB Albany, Jan. 15.-The annual report of the Brooklyr Baseball Club (limited), made by President Charles H Eyrne and Ferdinand A Abell, Joseph J. Boyle, E. K. Anderson, A. W. Liddle and Henry C. McLean, as trustees and stockholders, was filed with the Secretary of State to been paid in in cash, the renainder being in property necessary for the business of the club. The assets of the company consist of a lease of Washington Park, Brooklyn, alued at $1.500, and the rights and privileges under franchise from the National League, "the value of which," the report says, "is entirely speculative and cannot be computed." The existing debts of the company do not exceed $3.439, and consist of the running expenses. The receipts of the club last year were $117,801.35, and the expenditures were $117,615 68. No dividends were declared.
